Remember that, my child. Remember you are half water. If you can't go through an obstacle, go around it. Water does.

— Margaret Atwood

Dear Fabulous Friends at Watt-Ahh:

Thank you for your regular updates, features in your newsletter, boat-race awareness-raising and all the things you do to let your customers and community learn more about the Childhelp mission. We are honored to have big-hearted business partners on board and, just as we all made of water, we learn to flow around obstacles because of the kind people that help us make waves and find stillness.

We are fortified by your sensational product but just as nourished by your compassion for children's issues. Adopting abused and neglected children as your charitable outreach gives a voice to those silenced by abuse. Their tears are just water waiting to be washed away with love.

Congratulations on hitting and surpassing the $10,000. total giving mark. What an accomplishment and phenomenal gift to the children we all love! We love that your friends and customers have been part of this remarkable campaign of hope and we thank Aquanew for renewing spirits and Watt-Ahh for wetting our whistles for the future.

For the love of a child,
